

Paid Summer Internship Opportunity

Do you love sport? Are you passionate about AI and social media? Signify Group are searching for a Junior Research Analyst Intern to join our sports department in our London office for a 3 or 6 month period from June 2024.

Signify are an ethical data science company dedicated to improving the way people interact online. We advise some of the biggest brands, sports federations and charities globally on data ethics and governance – how to conduct research ethically, and how to protect their employees and brand from hate speech and disinformation. We are looking for an Intern to work on a packed summer schedule of sporting events. This is a great opportunity for someone who is looking to gain experience in a fast-growing tech company, working on innovative initiatives to do good.

Your duties will include the following*:

- Playing an active role supporting the company's activities monitoring and reporting online abuse, including abuse targeting professional athletes at major sporting competitions
- Social media desk research
- Supporting the Account Management team with verification of data

*this description is only a summary of the typical functions of the job, not an exhaustive or comprehensive list of all possible responsibilities, tasks, and duties.

The ideal candidate will have:

- Excellent communications skills
- A good eye for detail
- Ability to work to tight deadlines
- Data Savvy
- Analytically minded with strong critical thinking skills
- Able to work off own initiative
- An interest in sport

This role will provide an amazing introduction to the world of data ethics, social media and applied machine learning. You will report directly to our Account Management team, who will provide support throughout the duration of the internship.

Hours:

Office hours for this position is 9.30-5.30pm, however this may vary depending on timings of sporting events (possibility of some evening and weekend work during peak events). It is likely you will be working at least one day a week from home.

Salary band: £350-£460 pw

How to Apply:

To be considered for our summer internship, please submit a covering letter explaining why you are well suited for this internship, along with your CV to recruit@signify.ai by 30th April 2024.
